Large Crowd At "Spelling Bee;" Prizes Awarded

Proves to be County's Most Enthusiastic Educational Gathering--Chili School Wins Silver Cup--Grafton Ames Champion Speller.

The Halifax church was filled to overflowing Friday night at the speaking and spelling contest between representatives from the nine schools of Crawford township. It is estimated that between 350 and 400 attended the affair, of which County Superintendent of School, L. C. Shaw said last night, "it was the most enthusiastic educational gathering I ever saw in the county."

The honors of the evening were divided. First and second prizes of gold and silver medals went to Margaret and Ida Lorenz, of the Chili school in the speaking contest. The school is in charge of Willard Hagans and will receive one of the silver cups to hold until the next annual contest.

First prize in the spelling contest with the gold medal went to Grafton Ames of the Whip-poor-Will school which is taught by Clinton Frye. The silver cup in this event is also given into the custody of this school.

Second prize and the silver medal went to Luther Heiserman of the New Bedford school. The silver cups in each contest becomes the permanent property of the school which produces the winner of the first prize for three successive years.

Judges in the contest were County Superintendent of schools L. C. Shaw, W. H. Norris and Clifford Renner. The Crawford township schools are under the direct supervision of Professor T. G. Syler, of Fresno.

Fighting Sam Is Appointed Safer-Server

Councilman Ashman's Appointment To Nice Plum Is Announced

Sam Ashman, well known as the fighting councilman and campaign manager for the Republican forces, has been honored for the part he played in the recent election, by being chosen for the appointment to the combined offices of Safety Director and Service Director. His appointment becomes effective as soon after January 10, as he files his bond of $10,000 and the same is approved. The appointment was announced Friday by Mayor-elect Henry L. Richardson.

The office is the biggest plum which the new mayor will have at his disposal as the combined offices pay a salary of $1020 per year. The salary of the mayor, exclusive of fees, is $1000. Ashman will succeed Elmer Smith, present service director, and George Reagen, safety director, as council has voted to combine the offices after January 1, 1916.

He's Popular

The appointment will meet with general satisfaction it is thot, as Mr. Ashman has been quite active in municipal affairs and has gained a wholesome respect from the citizens of the city by the manner he has represented their interests during his service as councilmen, to which position he was appointed in April, 1914, to fill the unexpired term of Joseph Thomson who was forced to resign because of pressing business affairs which demanded his full attention.

During the Republican campaign this fall, Ashman took the helm and was instrumental in electing Richardson by a substantial plurality. It is partially in recognition of his leadership and ability displayed in the campaign that he has been selected to fill the office.

Mr. Ashman will devote his full time to the office and will give up his present occupation as a shoe repairer early in the new year.

SAM ASHMAN.

Keep The Pot Boiling For City's Needy

Salvation Army Starts Annual Collection Of Funds For Charity Work

Ding a ling! Ding a Ling! When you hear this familiar holiday sound today begin to look for your small change to drop into the Salvation Army Christmas kettle. These kettles which every year mean the bringing of Christmas joy and gladness to scores of the city's unfortunates, will be placed on Main street, today and kept boiling there until Christmas eve. On Saturdays there will be two of the kettles, one opposite the Cantwell shoe store and the other at the Pennsylvania railroad station. Thru the week there will be only one.

This is a simple and easy way to help in the spreading of Christmas cheer and gives everyone an opportunity to make a contribution be it large or small. The money is used in filling the baskets which are distributed among the poor by the Army and the annual treat to the children on Christmas eve.

Keep the kettle boiling!

Statistics Prove Much Of County's Land Is Not Used

One Tract Of 2,000 Acres Is Occupied By 12 People All Over 60 Years Of Age--15,644 Acres In County Classed As Waste.

Few people realize the extent of Coshocton county's possibilities and are familiar with its physical makeup. The county consists of 22 townships, all of which, with the exceptions of Jackson, Coshocton, Linton and Washington, are five miles square and contain 16,000 acres. Linton township is the largest, having a length of seven and a half miles and a width of five. It contains 24,000 acres being just one-half larger than the usual size. Jackson is the next largest and Tuscarawas the smallest. The two taken together are of standard size as the combined length is ten miles.

The county at large has a land acreage of 309,475 3-4 acres according to the government statistics. Of this amount, however, but a small fraction more than one-fifth is under cultivation. According to the figures of the government statistics compiled in 1910, only 63,940 acres were being tilled.

There are persons living within the county today who can recall when the hills were covered by dense forests. In 1910 only 42,084 3-4 acres of standing timber remained. Since that time the acreage has been further decreased. It is likely that only one-eighth of the county is covered with woodland today. Only a half more land is being tilled than is now in woodland.

Much Waste.

Of the county's 309,475 3-4 acres, 15,644 is classed as waste. This represents one twentieth of the total acreage of the county. The largest single item of acreage is found listed as pasture, 190,886 acres being so listed in the government report for the year 1910. Only 103,632 head of livestock of every description are being pastured on these 190,000 and more acres. In other words there is but one head of livestock, whether it be a horse, cow, sheep, or hog to each three acres of the county, or one to each two acres of pasture land used solely for pasturing purposes.

In 1910 the county had the following livestock:

Horses	5,826
Beeves	527
Milch cows	6,776
Sheep	84,256
All others	6,211

The peculiar and striking fact about these statistics is that the number of beeves is exceedingly small for a county which has such a large pasturage and that inasmuch as hogs are included with the 6,211 classed as all others the county with all its large pasturage is not producing enough meat for its own consumption.

Butchers say that very little of the meat sold in the local markets is homegrown and that the amount shipped in from out of the county ranges from seventy-five

New Phila Editor Is Ruled Out

The supreme court, Friday afternoon, by unanimous vote, reinstated Byron M. ClenDening, Democrat, of Cincinnati, as member of the state liquor commission, holding that his removal by Governor Willis because he aided in the referendum on the McDermott liquor license law, was unlawful.

This decision ousts J. Edward Hurst, newspaper man of New Philadelphia, member of the True Democracy league, who was given ClenDening's place by the governor.

The court, also, in the case of John F. Nolan, member of the Jefferson county licensing board, decided that charges could not be lawfully heard by the state board against Noland and 12 other county board members whose removal was sought by the state administration because they took a hand in the McDermott referendum.

Was Not Misconduct.

The court holds that participation in this referendum by ClenDening and these county members was not misconduct. Attorney General Turner, in a ruling to Governor Willis, held that this was misconduct and as such was a cause for removal.

The county board members applied for a writ of prohibition to prevent the state commission from proceeding with the charges filed against them. This writ, an old English court procedure, which has only been used once before in Ohio, is allowed by the high court.

Grocery Is Bought Out By M'Donald

Thru a deal consummated last night, Herbert McDonald, 731 Walnut street, purchased the Dawson & Smith grocery store on Walnut street just east of the Central school building.

The new owner will take charge of the store this morning and will commence at once making numerous changes. By next week, it was announced last night, a complete line of fancy and staple groceries will be in stock. The delivery system employed by the former proprietors will be continued by Mr. McDonald.

The Dawson & Smith grocery is one of the oldest establishments of its kind in the city having been operated for many years by E. A. Dawson and C. G. Smith. Until two years ago the store was located at the corner of Sixth and Main streets and it has always enjoyed a splendid patronage.

Mr. McDonald will increase the stock thruout and aims to maintain a high standard of store service.

The new proprietor has been employed for some time at the plant of the Novelty Advertising Company and was a number of years ago proprietor of the Mecca hotel.

Neither Mr. Dawson or Mr. Smith have announced their plans for the future.

Change Affects Users Of Railroad Mail Boxes

Coshocton people who have been in the habit of using the mail boxes at the Pennsylvania railroad station for the mailing of late letters and packages will be somewhat inconvenienced by the change made during the last week by the railroad company. Formerly mail has been taken from the west bound box by the second section of No. 27 at 11:13 p. m. During the last week the mail car has been taken off the second section and placed on the first which does not stop in Coshocton. On this account the mail placed in this box after No. 3 at 4:50 p. m. remains in the box until morning when it is taken up by one of the local mail carriers, carried back to the postoffice and not sent from there until No. [illegible] [illegible]. The mail if taken directly to the postoffice is sent out from there the same night.

While this change is made only in the west bound train the postoffice authorities as well as the Pennsylvania railroad clerks request that the people realize the advantage of taking their mail directly to the office and do not abuse the privileges of the railroad station boxes which are placed there merely for the convenience of mail which of necessity must be mailed at the last minute to catch the desired train. Mail clerks have been much annoyed by the great quantities of mail placed in these boxes and because they are so filled up with matter that could just as well be taken to the office it is often impossible for the business man who finds it necessary to use the boxes to get his mail in.

Novelties in Gold & Silver

OUCH!

It is the fellow who is getting pinched who yells "Ouch" and the fact that 5,000 retail jewelers throughout the United States have formed a syndicate called the United Jewelers, Inc., whose last year's purchases of articles in the jewelry line amounted to the immense sum of $1,500,000, have caused the largest manufacturers in this country to strongly compete for this business, and to offer the association better prices than many of the wholesale jewelers can get, as all of the association purchases are for cash, which is the greatest inducement that can be offered a manufacturer for his product, and will in every instance get the lowest possible price for his products. Every article stamped "Sterling" is required by the U. S. stamping laws, to be not less than 925-1000 fine silver, and every article we sell in silver has this stamp on it, and you are guaranteed by the U. S. Mint that the quality is right. Come in and see our list of articles which we are selling for $1.00 each, then try to match them for the prices and weight of the goods. We are the only "Hallmark Store" in Coshocton, as there is only one in each city. Our Holiday line is ready for your approval, and a call will convince the most skeptical that we can save you money on your Christmas purchases.

A Fine Healthy Child Convincing Evidence

Simple Inexpensive Remedy Checks Early Tendency to Constipation.

About the first thing impressed on the young Mother is the necessity for regularity in her baby, which brings up the question of the most desirable laxative for children's use.

Mrs. Jesse Richardson, Philpot, Ky., says she used Dr. Calwell's Syrup Pepsin for the past year and that there is no medicine in the world like it. She writes, "My little son, William, Jr., just loved it because it is so pleasant to take, and everybody talks about his being such a fine healthy boy."

WM. J. RICHARDSON, JR.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a compound of simple laxative herbs, free from any opiate or narcotic drug, and is the standard remedy for constipation in thousands of homes throughout the land. Drug Stores everywhere sell it for fifty cents a bottle. Get a bottle of this excellent remedy, and have it in the house. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 454 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

Will Verify Statement

Mr. Philip Gelber, 545 Bushwick Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., will verify to anyone interested his endorsement of Fruitola and Traxo. In writing to the Pinus laboratories Mr. Gelber says:

"I suffered with gall-stones seven years—tried various remedies without satisfactory results—was induced to try Fruitola and Traxo. Glad to say I am now feeling better than at any time for years and heartily recommend Fruitola and Traxo."

Fruitola acts on the intestinal organs as a powerful lubricant—softening the congested masses disintegrating the hardened particles that cause so much suffering and expelling the accumulation with almost instant relief. Traxo is a tonic-alterative acting on the liver and stomach, and is especially recommended in connection with Fruitola to build up and restore the weakened run-down system.

For the convenience of the public, arrangements have been made to supply Fruitola and Traxo through representative druggists. In Coshocton they can be obtained at Wimmer-Arnold Co., No. 2 Forbes Block.

Old Folks Need "Cascarets" For Liver, Bowels

Get a 10-cent box now.

Most old people must give to the bowels some regular help, else they suffer from constipation. The condition is perfectly natural. It is just as natural as it is for old people to walk slowly. For age is never so active as youth. The muscles are less elastic. And the bowels are muscles.

So all old people need Cascarets. One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect this gentle aid to weak bowels. The bowels must be kept active. This is important at all ages, but never so much as at fifty.

Age is not a time for harsh physics. Youth may occasionally whip the bowels into activity. But a lash can't be used every day. What the bowels of the old need is a gentle and natural tonic. One that can be constantly used without harm. The only such tonic is Cascarets, and they cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store. They work while you sleep.

GET IT FIRST—NOT LAST

When a cold grips your system it is convincing proof that your condition is weakened—remember that. It is risky indeed to simply trust your strength to throw it off, because neglected colds have brought more serious sickness than any other one thing, while weakening cathartics and stimulating syrups are often depressing and dangerous.

The one best treatment for any cold—the one so often relied on when others fail, is the powerful blood-nourishment in Scott's Emulsion, which feeds the very sources of bodily strength to suppress the present cold and generate strength to thwart further sickness.

Get Scott's first, not last—and insist on the genuine—always free from alcohol and injurious drugs.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

Thousands have this disease—and don't know it

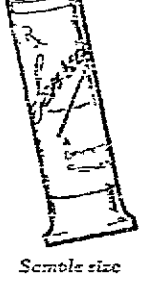

You may be afflicted with that dread disease of the teeth, pyorrhea, and not be aware of it. It is the most general disease in the world! The germ which causes it inhabits every human mouth—your mouth, and is constantly trying to start its work of destruction there.

Don't wait until the advanced stages of the disease appear in the form of bleeding gums, tenderness in chewing and loose teeth. You can begin now to ward off these terrible results. Accept the advice dentists everywhere are giving, and take special precautions by using a local treatment in your daily toilet.

To meet this need for local treatment and to enable everyone to take the necessary precautions against this disease, a prominent dentist has put his own prescription before the public in the convenient form of Senreco Tooth Paste.

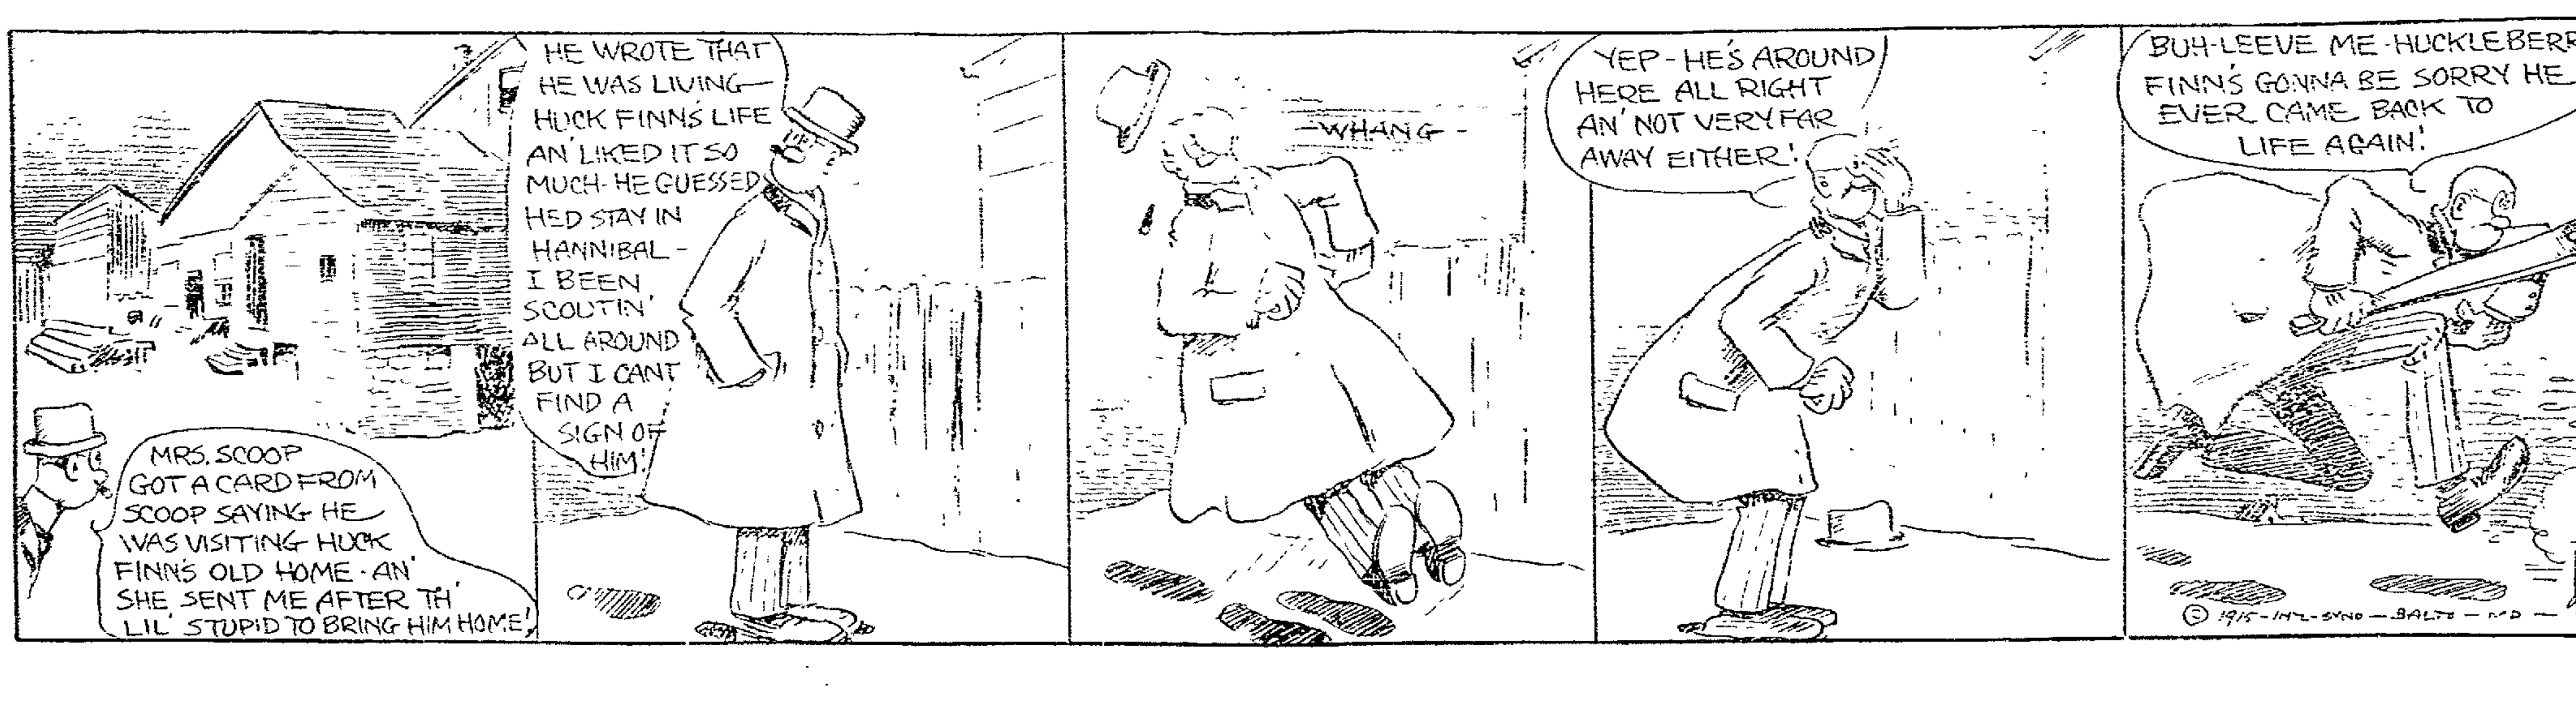

Senreco contains the best corrective and preventive for pyorrhea known to dental science. Used daily it will successfully protect your teeth from this disease. Senreco also contains the best harmless agent for keeping the teeth clean and white. It has a refreshing flavor and leaves a wholesomely clean, cool and pleasant taste in the mouth.

Start the Senreco treatment tonight—full details in the folder wrapped around every tube. Symptoms described. A 25c two oz. tube is sufficient for six or eight weeks of the pyorrhea treatment. Get Senreco at your druggists today, or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address The Sentanel Remedies Co., 504 Union Central Bldg., Cincinnati, Ohio.

BRITISH IN STEEL HELMETS.

"Pudding Dish" Headpieces Make Soldiers Look Like Crusaders.

On some parts of the Flanders battle front the British army authorities have begun serving out to the men in the firing trenches steel helmets similar to those introduced by the French. The British helmet is perfectly plain and not decorated like the French, which has a grenade crest and a rigid crown.

The British helmet exactly resembles a pudding basin. It is lined with soft leather and, while light, it is very warm. The men are said to be delighted with the new equipment because of the added sense of security against splinters, bullets and bomb fragments. One report says that in a small section of the trenches thirty men were saved from serious head wounds during the first four days of the experiment. The helmet lends a bizarre air to the troops, who wear it over the balaklava wool helmet, giving them the appearance of crusaders.

First Flying Machine.

The attempt on man's part to navigate the air is almost as old as civilization itself, but the first time in the history of the world that a power driven, heavier than air machine [illegible] carried a man through the air was in December, 1903, when the Wright brothers made their ever famous flight at Kitty Hawk, N. C. That was the real beginning of the flying machine.—New York American.

WHY THE MAILS ARE CLOGGED

When you hear a congressman prating about his love of economy and deploring the useless expenditure of public money, you can put down two-thirds of it as pure bunk. And congress, this winter as perhaps never before, will spend weeks in delivering and listening to just that kind of bunk.

Why, if congressmen are sincere in making statements of that kind, why don't they see to it that there is economy in the public service? Why don't they cut out needless expenditures? The place to start reforms is at home. And there is no more flagrant misuse of the public funds than that which occurs with such monotonous regularity under the franking privilege of congressmen and that other old friend, "Leave to print."

The "leave to print" is quite as flagrantly abused as the frank. Used in combination they constitute a petty graft that contributes its share in inflating the expense of the national government. When Representative Bogus wishes to distract his constituents' attention from his incompetence and insignificance he rises in the House, mumbles a few futile words, and obtains leave to extend his remarks in the Record. There is then printed at the people's expense a mess of useless verbiage that nobody heard. It serves no good purpose—it influences no fellow congressman's vote. Nobody but the proofreader pays any attention to it. Its only real purpose is that Representative Bogus, using his frank, may send out thousands of copies to his constituents to befuddle them into believing that he really is quite a personage in the national councils. It is all very well for him to delude his constituents—that is politics—but why should all of us pay the freight for him?

The pages of the Congressional Record reveal the most amazing mass of irrelevant, futile documents. Magazine articles, editorials, irresponsible reports, private propaganda—a quantity of papers that have no earthly connection with the national government—are printed to serve the personal ends of members of congress. Senators have been just as bad as representatives.

Hobson, who recently flooded the mails with tons of dry literature is just as flagrant an offender as his wet prototypes who have sent out equally vast quantities of wet campaign matter. The whole custom reeks with petty graft and it is time congress inspired confidence in itself by wiping out the whole disgusting practice.

PEACE ADVOCATES

Walt Mason

The statesman wi[illegible] maudling peace—a lasting peace that will not cease, until we're ages older—seems always in defiant mood; he struts around the neighborhood, a chip upon his shoulder. His every action seems to say, "I'm bound that peace shall [illegible] opposes, if any men would block my schemes, or side[illegible] my pacific dreams, I'll surely pull their noses. Why breed the [illegible] lust in our sons? Why purchase endless ships and guns, and make our taxes stiffer? Peace is the only righteous plan, and I can larrup any man who has the nerve to differ. The Jingoes have a gory creed, for which they argue, threaten, plead, but every sane man flouts it; our bulwark and our shield is Peace, and I can maul the axle grease from any man who doubts it. Peace is the balm for every sore, Peace is the welcome at the door, the greeting and the blessing; if any man says 'No' to that, I'll knock his jawbone through his hat, and leave his buckets guessing."

FORCING A DUKE TO BE USEFUL

Although the land value tax imposed in England under the Lloyd George budget, is ridiculously small, it has had some effect, as may be noted by the following from the New York Sun regarding the Duke of Marlborough:

"The Duke, who is the husband of Consuelo Vanderbilt, after protesting against pending radical land measures, two years ago placed 1000 acres of his Blenheim Castle estate under the plough, with the object of increasing the national food supply and giving employment to laborers. He has since produced two good crops of wheat, barley and oats. He substituted sheep for the mower on his lawns and when the supply of grass became scarce planted cabbages in his flower beds. The Duke also made a grant of land on which to build cottages for the laborers."

Slight as the tax is, it has forced the Duke to employ labor in putting to some use, land which he had previously held out of use.

That so slight an application of land value taxation should have such a result, shows what a benefit it would be to England to extend the principle further.

It would seem that the war, with its need of increased revenue would have been sufficient reason to increase taxes on land values But unfortunately this has not been done. The landowners of England were evidently not sufficiently patriotic to endure an increase of taxation, so the English Cabinet and Parliament put war expense on labor instead.

However, such opposition will only hasten the time when the landed aristocracy must surrender its privileges.

Increases are shown in bank clearings, post office receipts, grain receipts, live stock receipts and grain shipments. There isn't much left for the calamity howlers but the weather.

Congress faced 2,000 new bills the first day of the session. Instead of being an indication of an extremely busy session, it may mean a lot of time will be wasted.

A Washington dispatch says: "One needn't look for much non-partisan legislation." We don't know anyone who is looking for any at this or any other session.

Civic spirit, which has been at a low ebb in Coshocton, is steadily mounting. As an indication it is as hopeful as increased business and bank receipts.

The year 1915 will go down in history as the bloodiest in the annals of the race. And the question history will ask is: "What was it all about?"

The Wise Guy says: it may be possible to spoon in a runabout if the girl can drive, but it's a mystery how it's done on a motor cycle.

SUPER-AMERICAS CAN CROSS OCEAN

Aeroplane Man Says New Machines Can Accomplish Feat.

ARE USED BY THE BRITISH.

Air Craft Built Along Lines of the America, in Which Porte Intended to Attempt Transatlantic Flight Before Outbreak of the War—Factories Here Kept Busy.

Aeroplanes [illegible] aeroplanes of the flying [illegible] which in the opinion of experts, could easily cross the Atlantic in a single flight, are being used by Great Britain for the protection of its war and merchant ships. So amazingly have Yankees developed aviation to meet the demands of the European conflict that the transatlantic flight, regarded as a risky experiment when projected by Lieutenant John Cyril Porte last year, could now, it is said be accomplished with comparative ease.

When Rodman Wanamaker ordered an overseas flyer for Lieutenant Porte's adventure [illegible] the Curtiss company responded [illegible] the flying boat America. It was [illegible] as the last word in heavier [illegible] construction. But as has so often [illegible] proved there is no last word [illegible] aviation. The America has been [illegible] by the super-America, a [illegible] than its predecessor, with [illegible] horsepower in its engine, with [illegible] in the way of fuel economy [illegible] and general safety that [illegible] original America seem a [illegible] in comparison.

According to Henry Woodhouse, a governor of the Aero Club of America, [illegible] factories in Buffalo are [illegible] twelve of these amphibious [illegible] every day and the Curtiss [illegible] factory in Toronto five. [illegible] these machines are being shipped [illegible] England, most of them in parts, to be assembled on the other side.

Factories Kept Busy.

Great Britain bought the original America and used it during the first six months of the war for hunting and destroying German submarines. In June last twenty more of the same type were ordered, and these were shipped from New York in July. It was apparently in September that Glenn Curtiss marketed his first super-America from his factories in the United States and Canada. He has tried to guard the details of this work, but it is said that his force in the Buffalo factories alone has been increased from fifty to 2,200 employees since the war began.

"I believe," Mr. Woodhouse said, "that there would be no trouble at all in crossing the Atlantic with the super-America. Generally speaking, it is one-third larger than the first America. The latter flying boat had two motors of a hundred horsepower each. The new one has two motors of 160 horsepower each. For a long voyage it could also be supplied with an auxiliary motor operating a water propeller, so that if anything happened to the regular propellers the machine could descend and make good time through the ocean.

Can Carry Five Passengers.

"The new flying boat can carry a load of 3,080 pounds, including four or five passengers, and can travel as fast as ninety-five miles an hour. There are tanks for about 2,500 pounds of gasoline and oil. Although the horsepower has been increased by 120, the whole consumption of fuel is less than that of the old America. I should say the machine could easily travel from Newfoundland to the Azores and have three or four hours' fuel left in reserve when it got there.

"It is equipped with an improved Sperry drift detector, whereby the pilot can tell whether or not he's on his course and can also calculate his speed.

"It is well to remember that this country developed the first aeroplane, the first hydroaeroplane and the first flying boat, and that all of the inventiveness shown by America could be turned to account for America in case of need here. Other countries that are now fighting have developed large and capable land machines, but only England has the American boat, the use of which as a weapon against submarines needs little comment.

"The old America has had a great career since she left our shores. For the first six months she was used in hunting submarines, and it is known that she sank at least three. Then she went on inspection duty, carrying observers and commanders from point to point in almost absolute safety. Now she is being used in the training of aviators.

Faster Than Submarine.

"The flying boat travels six times faster than a submarine and three times faster than a battle cruiser. Submarines and warships have to carry their own base of supplies, as it were. The aeroplane darts back to its base and out over the water again. From a cruiser's deck the observer is lucky if he descries the periscope of a submarine. The aeroplane observer, looking down, can make out a submarine even if it is sixty feet under water, and below that depth a submarine is useless. The flying boat is, in her way, three times as efficient as a cruiser, yet instead of costing $1,500,000 it costs $25,000, and a crew of two or three men is plenty."

A Maud Powell Anecdote.

Maud Powell, the famous American violinist, is a firm believer in constant practice, no matter where she happens to be located. The famous record of Paderewski—seventeen hours a day practice—has been to her an inspiration. Musicians enjoy a story she tells on herself. She was staying in the summer at a country place. Every morning she went through her customary exercises. Every morning a boy employed about the place "doing chores" passed her open window and heard her working away at something which in the course of a few days he learned to identify. When he heard her playing it every morning for more than a week he could no longer contain himself, and as he passed the open window he shouted, "Aw, say, can't ye play it yit?"—New York Post

Is Your Comb Full Of Fallen Hair?

What to Do When Hair Comes Out.

Loose hairs in your comb and brush is Nature's way of waving a red flag in your face to tell you that your hair and scalp are losing vitality and that it is time you did something for them.

Don't disregard the warning. A little attention now may mean long, thick, luxuriant hair for you for years to come. A little further neglect and thin, dry, dull, lifeless brittle hair and finally baldness may result. To vitalize the scalp 'til it tingles with vibrant energy—to make every hair on your head healthy—get a package of Parisian Sage from Wimmer-Arnold or any other good druggist in town and rub a little right into your scalp with the finger tips.

Parisian Sage acts directly on the entire cell life of the hair—from root to tip—helping healthy growth and stimulating a beautiful glossy texture and glorious luxuriance. Notice how quickly your hair stops coming out on brush and comb—how it is easier to handle and dress and how all signs of itching or dandruff quickly disappear. It is not expensive.

SOCIAL WELFARE BILLS ADVOCATED

Congress to Be Asked to Promote Nation's Progress.

CHILD LABOR MEASURE READY

Convict Labor, Tuberculosis and Immigrant Protection Demand Special Attention—Welfare of the People Is One of the Most Important Methods of Preparation.

The importance in connection with "preparedness" of a number of pieces of legislation which are aimed to better the nation's condition and facilitate its progress along both commercial and social lines and which are to be submitted to congress along with the plans for increased armament is emphasized by Graham Romeyn Taylor in a statement issued by the Survey Social Service Press service.

"'Millions for defense, but not one cent for tribute,' is a slogan that once served to stir the nation to vigilance in the protection of its rights," says Mr. Taylor. "A question which confronts congress is the relation of possible millions for defense to the social welfare of the nation's people. Surely the countries of Europe have come to realize that in equipping themselves for war the welfare of their people is by no means the least factor.

"Failure to secure early consideration of bills was one of the chief reasons for the disappointing results in social legislation before the last congress. The Palmer-Owen child labor bill, for instance, passed the house, but the objection of a single senator killed it in the upper chamber. The second campaign for the bill is now going forward with vigor in the hands of the national child labor committee.

Child Labor Bill.

"The bill prohibits interstate commerce of goods in the production of which children under fourteen have worked in mills, factories, canneries or workshops; children under sixteen have worked in mines or quarries; children between fourteen and sixteen have worked at night, or more than eight hours a day in factories.

"Another measure designed to regulate the conditions under which goods are manufactured through federal authority over interstate commerce is the bill concerning the products of convict labor. A state may regulate its own convict labor, but it cannot bar convict made goods coming in from another state. The Booher-Hughes bill, as it was known at the last session, has passed the house four times. A year ago it was favorably reported by the senate committee, but never came to a vote.

"The new bill will provide for a commissioner of prisons, in whose office would be concentrated all of the activities with the duties of investigating administration, housing and social hygiene of prisoners, educational methods for their rehabilitation, systems of pardon and parole.

"Health measures before the next congress will include the bill to create a division of mental hygiene and rural sanitation in the public health service, which was considered last year; a bill to create a commission for the study of tuberculosis and a bill to provide federal subsidies for local tuberculosis hospitals.

Would Combat Tuberculosis.

"The plan for a federal commission on tuberculosis has been indorsed by four sectional conferences on tuberculosis and the American Public Health association. They point out that last year, while $18,000,000 was spent in the United States for institutional care and treatment, less than $2,000,000 was spent in the entire preventive campaign. They cite the success of Dr. Gorgas in eradicating yellow fever in Cuba and urge that if tuberculosis is attacked similarly by the federal government the next [illegible] will see as marked reduction in the mortality from tuberculosis as we have already seen in smallpox and yellow fever.

"Industrial measures are expected to include those before the last congress and several new ones. Among the recommendations of the commission on industrial relations, those which will be pushed are probably [illegible] in the announcement made by [illegible] man Frank P. Walsh, who laid emphasis on the need for a federal law, or, if necessary, a constitutional amendment limiting the power of the courts to declare laws unconstitutional; for an act prohibiting interstate shipment of armed guards, machine guns and other similar weapons except when consigned to the military authorities of the state or nation, and for an act requiring the federal trade commission to consider as unfair competition the exploitation of labor through long hours, low wages, unsafe or insanitary conditions.

"Several other bills modifying the immigration law are expected to come up. Some of these deal with a situation created by the war and provide for letting down the bars to Belgian and other refugees who come to America because of military conquest of their countries. Another effort is expected to extend to all Asiatics the present exclusion laws against Chinese laborers."

GET RID OF HUMORS AND AVOID SICKNESS

Humors in the blood cause internal derangements that affect the whole system, as well as pimples, boils and other eruptions, and are responsible for the readiness with which many people contract disease.

For forty years Hood's Sarsaparilla has been more successful than any other medicine in expelling humors and removing their inward and outward effects. Get Hood's. No other medicine acts like it.

PEOPLES' FORUM

CO-OPERATION

Editor The Tribune:

I was much interested in A. C's. article in yesterday's issue of The Tribune. It shows that the working people are doing some thinking, and that they begin to realize they are being exploited when they buy as well as by their employers.

But to have recourse to the mail order houses to cut down high prices, is not the proper remedy. What the working people of this city need is a Co-operative store. Two hundred working men with ten dollars each can start such a store very nicely. The shares may be paid for in installments of one dollar and should bear—say 4% interest. The profits to be divided yearly in proportion to each member's purchases.

This is no hot air scheme or theory that needs demonstrating. The Northwest has hundreds of Co-operative stores that are entirely successful. They save many dollars annually to their thousands of shareholders.

Europe, despite the war, is way ahead of us in co-operative stores and factories. It is the one GREAT PLAN that offers the working man IMMEDIATE relief from poverty and oppression.

Yours for Progress and Co-operation,

AUSTIN BEEJEY.

HEARING AND SEEING.

The Ear and the Eye and the Power of the Brain to Memorize.

Is the ear more retentive than the eye? Are we more impressed with what we hear than with what we see?

There is a familiar legend of Macaulay reciting a good part of "Paradise Lost" during a voyage to India and of the historian's ability to rise from a book and repeat word for word what he had read. There are also records of John Stuart Mill's ability to remember the printed word.

But the balance of evidence seems in favor of the power to memorize that which passes through the ear into the brain. "Memory" Woodfall, who lived in the latter part of the eighteenth century, could attend a debate and report it exactly without notes, a purely feat of aural memory. Toscanini can conduct a number of difficult operas without the score before him. Thomas Beecham, the London orchestra leader, conducted from memory Strauss' "Rosenkavalier" upon twenty-four hours' notice. Von Bulow is said to have memorized a Stanford symphony on the train between Hamburg and Berlin and to have conducted it without the score in the latter city. Dr. Kunwald can conduct from memory a large number of orchestral works, with all their nuances of interpretation.

It is a question for the psychologist. The popular verdict probably would be in favor of the prowess of the ear rather than of the eye. There are a large number of people who can remember an air exactly, but to whom the printed word is an evaporated thing as soon as it passes from their eyes.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

MURDER WILL OUT.

"The Best Laid Schemes o' Mice and Men Gang Aft Agley."

Once upon a time there was a lady who wished to have her real age kept a secret. In order to get away with it she instructed her son, in case any one asked how old he was, to knock off about 50 per cent.

She told people the boy was large for his age and explained the gruff tones of his voice by saying that his tonsils needed attention.

One day the rector of the church called, and while waiting in the drawing room for the lady to put the finishing touches to her makeup he talked with the boy, who was pretending to read "Little Lord Fauntleroy" for the seventeenth time. The boy volunteered the information that the next day would be his birthday.

"Ah," said the rector, "and how old will you be then?"

"Ten years old," replied the boy, as per instructions.

"Indeed!" said the rector. "I dare say you haven't any idea what your mother is going to give you for a birthday gift."

"Oh, yes, I have," was the unexpected answer. "She promised to give me a safety razor."

When the rector rushed into the hall to see what had caused the loud crash he had heard he found the boy's mother lying on the floor in a dead faint.

Moral.—Old Father Time calls all bluffs.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

LAFAYETTE DOLLARS.

Why They Were Issued and What They Are Now Worth.

In 1899 congress ordered 50,000 Lafayette dollars to be coined in aid of the fund for the erection of the Lafayette monument in Paris in 1900. The first one of the issue was struck at the Philadelphia mint Dec. 14, 1899, on the one hundredth anniversary of the death of George Washington. This coin was set apart for presentation by the president of the United States to the president of the republic of France.

The Lafayette dollar is a legal tender dollar and bears upon its face a double medallion of the heads of Washington and Lafayette and on the reverse a miniature reproduction of the equestrian statue of Lafayette, with the inscription, "In Commemoration of Monument Erected by School Youth of United States to General Lafayette, Paris, France, 1900."

The Lafayette memorial commission was authorized to dispose of them at $1 apiece, the profit going to the monument fund. The whole proceeding was to honor the memory of Lafayette, and there was but one issue of the coin—viz, 50,000. They have become widely scattered, mostly in the hands of collectors, and are worth $1.10 to $1.25 apiece.—New York Times.

A Good One.

"I don't see so much in these witticisms aimed at the mother in law."

"Think she is unduly jo-hed, eh?

"I do. Mine lives with us and when my wife storms at me the old lady takes my part quite frequently."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

BOSTON WOOL.

Boston, Dec. 10.—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow: "Wool has continued to move steadily into consuming channels with an entire absence of the excitement which appears to be present in many of the overseas markets. Prices are firmer here and possibly a bit stronger for some classes of wool, but there has been no marked advance during the week, manufacturer contesting every endeavor to boost prices. More wool could have been sold without doubt had dealers been willing to accept former prices. It is doubtful if American mills were ever consuming more wool than at the present."
